Death's Reflection

Nice girls go bad; bad girls get worse!

Hiideshi Hino's second collection of graphic novelas drawn in his inimitable shojo manga style. When Yuki and friends discover a corpse reflected in the bathroom mirror at school they believe it to be a joke. However, gruesome events unfold that will lead them to regret they were ever so foolish. Other stories include a girl whose beauty makes her the victim of a terror campaign, another who is bullied by a teacher but in death achieves her revenge, and Class 7, into which students enter...but don't live to see graduation.

Death's Reflection is the 10th title in the all-new manga series Hino Horror. Although primarily a graphic novelist, Hideshi Hino is also well known as the director of the infamous Guinea Pig horror movies. With over 150 graphic novels in print, Hino's inimitable style has put him at the forefront of Japan's horror manga movement. Perfected over a 30-year career dredging the depths of the human mind, the terrifying and often grotesque images that his stories portray have influenced generations of manga artists.

Hino Horror are not only drawn in Japan,
they're translated and produced in Japan as well.
The Real Thing, you might say!
So it makes sense to follow the original format.
That means reading this book from right to left and starting each page in the top right-hand corner.
And if that ain't enough,
we've even added the original Japanese sound effects as well!!
